

MAIRE AWARDED NEW CONTRACTS BOTH IN THE IE&CS AND STS BUSINESS UNITS FOR APPROXIMATELY USD 260 MILLION IN LINE WITH THE GROUP'S TEN-YEAR STRATEGIC PLAN

- Awards include a project to be carried out by KT-Kinetics Technology for PKN Orlen, relating to pre-treatment plant to produce renewable diesel (HVO) in Poland where NextChem will act as technology integrator
- These awards confirm the positive commercial momentum and the integrated approach between technologies and execution capabilities

Milan, 20 June 2023 – MAIRE S.p.A. announces that its Integrated E&C Solutions (IE&CS) and Sustainable Technology Solutions (STS) subsidiaries have been awarded new contracts for an overall value of approximately USD 260 million by international clients mainly in Europe, Asia and South America.

In particular, KT-Kinetics Technology has been awarded an IE&CS contract for a pre-treatment plant by PKN Orlen (PKN), a Polish multinational oil refiner and petrol retailer, with major operations in Central Europe. The project shall have a duration of 24 months. The pre-treatment plant, to be installed inside the Płock Refinery in Central Poland, shall process vegetable oils, used cooking oils and animal fats to produce renewable diesel (also known as Hydrotreated Vegetable Oil, or HVO) for the domestic and International markets. NextChem, part of the Sustainable Technology Solutions business unit, will act as technology integrator for the project. The unit will be the first of this kind in Poland and will contribute to the Country's decarbonization plans, in line with the EU directives.

Alessandro Bernini, MAIRE CEO, commented: "The PKN award is a testament of MAIRE's expertise in renewable fuels and value creation from second generation feedstock obtained from non-food crops. Thanks to the Group's integrated approach across its two business units, MAIRE confirms its role as project enabler and technology integrator in the energy transition".
